

Lower Bucks Keeps Eye On Middle East

By MAURY ALLEN
Courier and Times Staff Writer

British bombs rained from the skies of the ancient land of the pharaohs today.

Across the Mediterranean, through Egypt's sands and over a wide span of ocean and land, the rumble of earth was being heard in Lower Bucks.

And reaction in the area was one of almost stolid resignation —hoping and praying for the best, bracing and fearing the worst.

In Bensalem township, supervisor Raemond Wink sort of summed it all up.

"It seems like a pretty silly way to settle a dispute. There must be another way out," he said.

Alma Fettes, a secretary in the township office, looked up from a mountain of paper work and attentively listened as the radio blared the war news.

Time Important

"Everything seems so petty and unimportant in the light of all this," she said.

The important thing now seemed to be time. The next day or two or week might tell the story of the age.

Tim Fahey of the Levittown Kiwanis said, "We have to watch what happens in the next few days. Ike is sincere but if it lasts any length of time, how can we avoid becoming involved."

The United Nations, some believe, carries the hopes of our future.

Stanley Steinke of Feasterville places his faith in the UN finding a peaceful way out.

"The UN was set up to cope with this type of situation. They should be able to do the job."

"Such disputes should be settled before shooting starts in the UN. The pen is supposed to be mightier than the sword."

Heaviest Burdens

The war halfway across the world began to take on dangerous closeness to those who always shoulder the heaviest burdens.

Veterans kidded about their old uniforms not fitting and mothers thought of their teenage sons.

Robert Quinn, a Southampton fireman, felt the president was in a difficult spot.

"The pressure is surely on Ike now with the election coming up."

"I can only hope we don't get involved. I know that I wouldn't want to go back."

Mrs. John B. Walterick, a Tul-lytown mother of two sons put her faith in Ike.

"I'm certain the president will find some way out and not involve us in any war."

"I have two sons that are the ripe age for going into service if there should be a war. But I'm not worried because I'm certain we'll stay out."

A Levittown man wasn't too optimistic with the situation and thought maybe Stevenson's H-bomb proposal might be taken more seriously in the light of things.

"It sure sounds strange to hear about a war out there after Ike said things were going well in the Suez crisis."

Lower Bucks, and the rest of the world watched, waited and prayed.

The world game of chess was on in earnest.

Red Hungary Trio Reported In Russia

Budapest Radio Says Top Leaders Escaped Tuesday

VIENNA — UP — Communist Hungary's three top Stalinist leaders who were deposed at the height of the anti-Communist rebellion may have escaped to the Soviet Union, Budapest radio reported today.

They were the tough Communist Party Secretary Ernoe Geroe, former Premier Andras Hegedues who was ousted for Titoist Imre Nagy and Laszlo Piro, minister of interior and head of the hated secret police.

Budapest radio said there were "mounting reports" the three fled to Russia Tuesday night to escape the vengeful revolutionaries who now demand a Western-type democratic government in the one-time Soviet stronghold.

The radio report said there was no fighting in the burned out city (Continued on Page 3, Col. 8)

Falls Starts United Fund Homes Drive

Chairman Announces Additional Captains In Township Areas

The door-to-door solicitation of Falls township for the Bucks County United Community Fund campaign was launched at a meeting of area captains with Albert Kellett, Fallsington chairman, at the Fallsington Fire House.

In most areas, Mr. Kellett said, homes will be canvassed today in a one-day drive. In others, the workers will set the dates, to complete the drive shortly. Mrs. James S. Douglass, chairman of the Residential Division for the United Fund in Lower Bucks, joined in the strategy meeting.

Mid-East News In Brief

MOSCOW-UP—The Soviet foreign ministry announced today that Premier Nikolai Bulganin has sent a letter to President Eisenhower dealing with the Mideast situation. The contents of the letter were not revealed in Moscow.

CAIRO — UP — The Egyptian government today took over British and French oil industries in Egypt.

The minister of industry and commerce took over two British and one French company here, a government communique announced.

They were the Shell Petroleum Company, Anglo-Egyptian Oil Fields, Ltd., and the French-Egyptian Petroleum Company.

The army took over protection of all public utilities today.

LONDON-UP—British Defense Minister Antony Head told Commons today Israeli paratroops supported by a brigade are now holding high ground "about 20 miles east of Suez" at the southern terminus of the canal in Egypt.

LONDON — UP — Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden said today that Britain has made no declaration of war on Egypt.

Two Injured When Car Smacks Truck

The driver and passenger in the car above were taken to Lower Bucks County Hospital after the vehicle crashed into the side of the truck parked off Route 13 at the North Shore Supply Company, Levittown. Police, who charged the driver, Daniel Gomez, 38, of 311 Lincoln avenue, Bristol, with reckless driving, said the vehicle left the road and traveled 390 feet before hitting the truck. The car also knocked down a fire hydrant before it struck the truck. Gomez was treated for laceration of the knee and nose at Lower Bucks County Hospital. A companion, Victor Zambrana, 22, of Kings Farm, Morrisville, was admitted to the hospital with a possible concussion. Bristol Township police report the impact moved the truck two feet sideways and bent the truck chassis. The front of the car was squeezed under the truck body. (Courier and Times Photo)

Nasser Says Egypt Plans 'Total War'

Western Allied Planes Continue Attack On Airfields

LONDON — UP — Egypt announced today that a ship sunk by British and French bombers had blocked the Suez Canal.

"Britain and France have blocked Suez Canal navigation at a time when they have aroused the whole world by claiming they are protecting canal navigation," an Egyptian communique said.

It was the major development in the second day of hostilities which found British and French bombers streaming out of their Cyprus bases against Egyptian targets on an around-the-clock basis. In the Sinai Desert, Israel claimed to have cut off the 20-mile Gaza Strip from the rest of Egypt and to have bottled up some 20,000 of the cream of Egypt's army.

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser said over Cairo Radio that Egypt "will fight a total war."

"We will fight in the villages and from ditch to ditch," Nasser said.

It was Nasser's defiant reply to French and British announcements that they will continue their attacks until the fighting between Egypt and Israel ends. There was no sign of any such end.

From Damascus came word that Syrian forces had clashed with Israeli troops and had penetrated into Israel before withdrawing. The clash was said to have been with Israeli border patrols.

Diplomatic action kept pace with the fighting.

Egypt broke off relations with France and Britain.

Jordan broke off relations with France.

Good Evening!

No involvement, Eisenhower promises.

The President put it on the line in his discussion last night of the flaming Middle East and as you listened to him you could hardly escape the conclusion that the nation is fortunate in having Ike at its helm.

Well, some 17 years ago about this time another president, FDR by name, was promising no troops for foreign shores but at that time nobody could believe conflict would be raging around the world.

Surely some lessons have been learned. How well this Middle East fighting is contained will soon tell whether or not the learning took hold.

However, again U. S. leadership should keep global feet on the ground. Somehow or other we believe it will.

Meantime, hey, just like spring outside the window!

Fall flowers still blooming for goodness sake and a few more days of mildness and showers and the apple blossoms will be showing again.

And Leo Durocher turns down the Cleveland Indians managerial job. We rather felt the gabbay guy would be back gabbing again by spring.

Whether you like him or not, the man is one of the real "old pros" remaining.

"This crime was the work of a master criminal," the prosecutor told the jury. "It was carried out in a skillful, ingenious manner."

The defendant jumped to his feet. "Flattery won't get you anywhere. I ain't going to confess."

You never saw a pessimist worrying about tomorrow. He KNOWS everything is going to turn out wrong.

Watch your driving.

Industry Donations

In announcing the township solicitation, Mr. Kellett noted that many Falls residents have already made donations or pledges at their places of work.

"Please welcome the United Fund worker when he or she calls even if you have already made your gift," he said. "There may be someone else in the household who would like to participate."

Supplementing the list of area captains previously announced Mr. Kellett disclosed the following additions and changes:

Area Captains

West Lincoln Highway, including Oxford Valley, Miss Winifred Hileman.

Yardley and Locust avenues and Lower Morrisville road, Robert Troutman.

Bristol Pike, Wheatshaeaf, Lacey and Reed avenues, Penn Valley and Tullytown roads, Mrs. Edna Hecker, Mrs. Louise Boyce and Mrs. Albert Doster. Mayberry tract, Mrs. Charles E. Wilson.

Falls Park, Mrs. Anna Bruce, Mrs. Vorhees Wertz.

Penn's Manor, Lower Penn Valley road, Mrs. Arthur Doyle.

Baby Sitters Grow Scarce In L'town

Better Call Now If You're Planning To Go Out New Year's

Baby sitters for New Year's Eve are getting scarce, so if you're planning to paint the town, you'd better engage one now.

Mrs. Vernetta W. Parks, 44 New Pond lane, North Park, Levittown, administrator of the Levittown Civic Association baby sitting service, announced today that already many persons have called her in reference to sitters for that night.

At the same time, she also announced special New Year's Eve rates for LCA registered sitters.

For adults who normally receive 75 cents an hour, there will be a minimum rate of $5 for the first (Continued on Page 3, Col. 7)

American First To Land On Pole

WARREN, R. I. — UP — An American landed by plane at the South Pole early today, the first person in the world to do so, according to a radio report received here.

Word of the historic landing by Rear Admiral George Dufek was received here by a ham radio operator, Newton Kraus.

He received the shortwave radio message shortly before dawn from the U. S. base at McMurdo Sound in Antarctica.

Dufek touched down at the Pole at midnight (EST) and spent 45 minutes at the exact bottom of the world.

Ike to Fight Back At Adlai's Blasts On Foreign Policy

President Eisenhower, highly indignant over Adlai E. Stevenson's charges of bungling GOP foreign policy, fights back today in defense of administration handling of the Middle East crisis.

Stevenson asks today for free radio and television time to tell how the Eisenhower administration has taken "the whole world to the brink of another war."

The political implications of the Middle East fighting overshadowed all other issues in the last days of the campaign before Tuesday's election.

Mr. Eisenhower is scheduled to make a nationwide television and radio campaign address from Convention Hall in Philadelphia at 9:30 p.m. EST.

He is expected to criticize the Democrats for what the GOP regards as their attempts to capitalize on the spreading warfare.

Clayton Fritchey, Stevenson's press secretary, said the Democratic presidential candidate was asking radio and TV networks to give him 15 minutes at 7 p.m. EST today to comment on the (Continued on Page 3, Col. 7)

Bucks County Is Seen As Election Pivot

Congressional Race Could Be Decided By Voters Here

Bucks county, with a record high of voters expected to go to the polls, will play an important part in the outcome of next Tuesday's crucial election.

State and national leaders of both parties anxiously await the outcome of the county's vote for the Congressman post which Bucks shares with Lehigh county.

The post is now held by Rep. Karl C. King, of Morrisville, who was reelected by a scant 3000 majority in 1954. However, Congressman King is not seeking reelection. A Morrisville lawyer, Willard S. Curtin, is now carrying the Republican banner. Curtin, a former county district attorney, is opposed by John P. Fullam, Fairless Hills attorney and solicitor for Bristol borough.

Confident

A Fullam victory has been predicted by Democratic County Chairman James C. Bowen. He pointed to the closeness of the 1954 voting and the Democratic gains in the county since that year to back up his claim.

Last November the Democrats won control of the county commissioners and several other offices. Since that time the Democrats have shown considerable strength in registration of new voters. Bowen stated that Curtin is (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

Kiwanis Head Is Speaker

The Lieutenant Governor elect of the 18th Division of the Pennsylvania District of Kiwanis, was a guest at a meeting of the Levittown Kiwanis Club last night.

William Scheff explained to Kiwanians at Pennsbury Inn, Morrisville, his hopes and expectations for the 18th Division for 1957.

John Boylan, public and business affairs committee, reported Kiwanis will give its third group donation of blood through the American Red Cross at Lower Bucks County hospital, Wednesday, prior to a dinner meeting.

Guest speaker for the evening was Obie Calhoun, helicopter pilot and a partner in the 3-M airport, Bristol. He showed a film illustrating the versatility of the helicopter. Calhoun also explained various uses, such as quick delivery of air mail, executive transportation, and power line surveys, and others.

We Have To String Along With Ike

In an objective editorial discussion of the presidential campaign the Courier and The Times conclude that best interests of the nation, the world will be better served by the reelection of President Eisenhower.

Lower Bucks Takes 10,000th Patient On Anniversary Day

The Lower Bucks County Hospital celebrated its second year of operation this morning by announcing it has received its 10,000th patient, Fred Gonsulus, of 53 Spinythorn road, Levittown.

A community hospital built with donations, and governed by a board of directors elected by the donors, the hospital is located on Bath road in Bristol township.

Representatives of industry and business, labor and the community serve on the board, whose president is Frank F. Flatch, president of the Bucks County Federation of Trade and Industry Council, AFL-CIO.

As well as the 10,000 patients admitted since the hospital opened its doors in 1954, the emergency room has saved hundreds of lives of accident victims. Salk polio vaccinations were given at the hospital to hundreds of children.

Birth announcements from the hospital announce as many as 10 new-born babies each day.

Increases Services

Since the first patient entered the hospital November 1, 1954, the institution has continually increased its services to the public.

Now, 800 patients are admitted, 200 children born, 400 surgical operations performed each month.

The modern well-equipped operating room has all modern facilities to insure the safety of the patients. Nearby is a "recovery room" where a nurse is on duty to aid patients who have undergone surgery.

In noting the second birthday of the hospital, Mrs. Mary Ancker, administrator, said this morning there were 242 patients, the number expected to be increased by five births before tonight.

from London and Paris for "consultation." Iraq was preparing for consultations with both Egypt and Britain, with each of whom it has treaties.

In London, Prime Minister Anthony Eden faced the greatest test of his career, under angry and determined attack by the Laborites. He was expected easily to survive a vote of confidence, but admitted the fate of both himself and his government hung on the outcome of the mid-eastern conflict.

At the United Nations in New York, the General Assembly was to meet at 5 p.m. to consider the Mideast tinderbox. It was likely both France and Britain would boycott the meeting, Egypt threatened to quit the U.N. because of its failure to prevent the Anglo-French attack.

Attack Land Forces

The Egyptian communique said that British and French planes had attacked Egyptian land forces while they were crossing the Suez Canal at several points, especially in the Ferdan area.

It added that the Western Allied planes continued raiding Cairo, Alexandria and the Suez Canal Zone all day long.

The Egyptians claimed to have shot down six of the British raiders today—four over Alexandria and two over Cairo.

The ship sunk in the canal was identified as the Akka, an Egyptian naval unit. An "Akka" listed in James Fighting Ships is an Egyptian naval vessel which formerly was a U.S. landing ship tank, 347 feet long, displacing 2,140 tons.

Israel Radio told Egyptian units in the Gaza Strip they were trapped and should "put down your arms before it is too late."

Egypt angrily charged that French fighters had attacked Egyptian troops fighting Israeli forces near the Suez Canal.

Allies Renew Attack

At British-French headquarters at Suez, a communique said that carrier and shore-based aircraft had renewed their attack and hit nine Egyptian airfields. Four were hit yesterday. Five more were hit today in the delta and canal zone.

The communique said there had been no Allied losses, although Egyptian jet fighters attempted some interceptions and the raiders met some anti-aircraft fire.

British began loading more troops and supplies for the Middle East today while the Anglo-French amphibious force neared the Suez Canal Zone, ready to strike once the Egyptian air force is wiped out.

There was a solid indication the British fleet was moving in on both ends of the canal. The Admiralty announced Wednesday night a British cruiser sank an Egyptian frigate in the Gulf of Suez at the southern end of the canal. The big amphibious force led by aircraft carriers and battleships was somewhere off the northern end.

Plane 'Crash' Hunt In Vain

A gigantic search by local, state and Turnpike police was called off early this morning after a fine tooth combing of the area failed to reveal any trace of a plane which was reported to have "crashed" near the Turnpike.

Turnpike police said a woman driver had reported seeing a plane crashing near Newportville road and the Turnpike in Bensalem township.

Turnpike police put the report over the radio and Bensalem police and state police from the Fairless Hills barracks took part in the hunt.

The area from the Turnpike Bridge to the Neshaminy creek and across the creek to Crofton was thoroughly scouted.

The search lasted for more than four hours with close to 30 police officers taking part.

Bristol township police were of the opinion that the woman "might have been seeing things."

Falls Republicans To Rally Tonight

The Falls Township Republican Club will sponsor a rally tonight at the Fairless Hills Community Center from 8 to 10:30 o'clock.

Rudy Kraus, candidate for the state legislature, will be on hand to speak on his "program of progress" and talk with voters.

The rally will take time out to watch President Eisenhower deliver his Philadelphia address via a large screen television set.

Refreshments will be served and all registered voters are invited.

Seeing Levittown

By JIM ORT

There's more than one way to skin a cat! No two youngsters were more disappointed than four-year-old Eddy Graham, and his sister, Ruth, age six, children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Graham, 17 Nasturtium lane, North Park. Last night, as you realize, I'm sure, was "trick or treat" and the youngsters were confined indoors with colds. So their mother, Lois, donned a costume and canvassed the neighborhood, nearly scaring the life out of some of the residents. She returned home with a pillow case full of the usual "treat" items for the children.

If the second "three" is as successful as the first, Lydia Bogane, my "Seeing Levittown" predecessor, will be a mighty happy gal. She directed the play, "My Three Angels" for the Levittown Players, and won an award for the best director of the 1954-55 season. Lydia will direct the next presentation of the players, Dec. 13, 14, and 15, at the little theatre in Walt Disney School. The name of the play, "Three Men on a Horse".

The Upper Orchard Women's club has donated its services as judges in the Christmas home decorating contest sponsored by the Levittown Civic association. More volunteers are needed as sectional judges. If you're interested, call Joe Segal at WI 6-7876.

Burglars Loot Bristol Office

A burglar or burglars who broke into the M. Berrie Advertising office, 445 Mill street, Bristol, last night, stole $100 worth of photographic apparatus as well as other effects, owner Mike Berrie told borough police.

Mr. Berrie said the intruder entered the rear of the building, by breaking a window, and ransacked the office.

Bristol borough police are investigating under the direction of Detective Vincent Faragalli.

Plant, Union Agree On Pact

Agreement on a contract between the National Container corporation, recently merged with Owens-Illinois glass company, and Local 375 of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill workers was reached shortly after midnight this morning.

The agreement followed lengthy conferences between company and union and federal mediators. It includes provision for a pension plan and a wage increase, it is understood.

Reported differences over the agreement resulted in a picket line at the Crofton plant this morning. However, Joseph Sama, shop steward for the local, assured members of the union the differences had been ironed out. The local has a membership of 300.

unknown among new voters who didn't live here when he was district attorney.

The total registration, which is over 112,000, shows there are 41,870 Democrats to 66,456 Republicans.

Republicans also predict a victory, and by a much larger margin than in 1954. They point to the 1952 election, the last time President Eisenhower was on the ticket. The Republican ticket swept away all opposition behind Mr. Eisenhower.

Curtin said he would be willing to meet Fullam, today, in public debate "any place, any time." His statement was in answer to charges by Fullam that Curtin was "hiding."

In making his offer Curtin pointed out that he had debated numerous times with Fullam and has a meeting scheduled for tonight at Coopersburg, in Lehigh county.

In an open telegram to Fullam, Curtin said, "You have been going about publicly saying I have refused to meet with you in debate during this campaign. You know very well that we have already appeared on the same platform in the following places and on the following dates:

Basic Steel Pay Involved In Dispute

PHILADELPHIA — UP — Negotiators for union and management planned to meet today in an effort to avert a strike by 2,300 production and office workers at the Eddystone plant of the Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton Corp. here.

The meeting was called by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service after negotiations broke down between the company and four locals of the United Steelworkers Union. A walkout is set for 12:01 a.m. Monday.

A union spokesman said the dispute involved wages set for the basic steel industry, guaranteed work day and other benefits. He said the union had rejected "a company proposal to weaken our grievance procedure."

3 Committed To Bucks Jail

Three persons were committed to Bucks County Prison yesterday on charges ranging from vagrancy to statutory rape.

Vincent MacElroy, 38, of Liberty Bell Trailer Camp, Trevose, a mechanic, was committed on the statutory rape charge by Justice of the Peace Josephine Morris of Bensalem Township.

He is being held for the grand jury and for criminal court.

James Crawford, 56, who police said has no home, was committed to prison for 90 days on a vagrancy charge by Justice of the Peace Albert Schultz, Bensalem.

Robert Crawford, 34, of 200 Washington avenue, Newtown, was committed on a contempt of court warrant involving a non-support charge. He was brought to prison on an attachment by Harold Dando, county probation officer.

2 New Units Quell Valley Road 'Blaze'

Bristol township's two new fire companies joined forces last night to save a "burning house" on the Langenfelder tract in a drill that may set the pattern for future operations.

Members of the Third District Fire Co. braved smoke-bomb fumes to enter the three-story frame house on Oxford Valley road, now township property, then doused it with water pumped from the Langenfelder Lake by the engine of Levittown Fire Co. No. 2.

Relay Lake Water

The Levittown pumper relayed the lake water to the Third District pumper to soak the house, in which flames were simulated by burning flares.

Although planned as a drill by the top leaders of the two fire departments, the alarm was a surprise to the firemen, who thought the sirens were announcing a real blaze. Besides a training mission, it was a test of the response of the new firemen and how well they could work together.

Chief Carl D'Emedio and President Louis Amadio, of the Third District company telephoned the alarm to the Bristol township police dispatcher at 6:15 p.m. The Third District siren was sounded and the men rushed to the scene. Approaching the house, they radioed for the assistance of the Levittown firemen, whose chief, W. R. Hudson, was also in on the plans.

Reverse Order

After the Third District firemen had "put out" the fire with water pumped by the Levittown No. 2 firemen, they drove their engine to the lake and the order was reversed. The Levittown firemen put water on the house. Fire police of both companies kept traffic moving by the drill scene.

Bucks County Rescue Squad was called to simulate first aid for persons overcome by smoke.

Some 45 firemen responded from the two companies. The two chiefs, pleased with the turnout and cooperation, resolved to plan to continue to work together, calling on each other whenever help is needed. Each department so far has only one engine.

Two Charged As Reckless

Two persons were slightly injured in an automobile accident at 11 o'clock last night on Route 1 at Tyburn road.

Harold M. Dowling, a driver who listed his address as care of Grossingers, Ferdele, N.Y., was treated and discharged at Mercer hospital in Trenton for abrasions of the nose and back.

A passenger in his car, Margaret Quoig, 50, same address, was treated for abrasions of the right knee.

Dowling was charged with reckless driving after his vehicle collided with one driven by W. Pepper, Jr., 90 East Prospect street, Trenton. Pepper had stopped for the traffic light at the intersection, when Dowling crashed into the rear of his auto, police said.

West Workman and George Dascalakis, Falls township police, investigated.

Another driver was charged with reckless driving after he backed his auto into a parked car on Waltham road in Fairless Hills, last night.

Robert Krieger, 18, of 75 South Federal street, Chambersburg, hit a car owned by Edgar D. Fetter, 211 Waltham road, Fairless Hills.

Laurence Nolan and William Moyer, Falls township policemen, investigated.

Freak Accident Fatal To Trucker

Albert Smith of 2202 West street, Munnhall, Pa., a truck driver, died in Lower Bucks county hospital today of head injuries suffered in a freak accident at a Morrisville industrial plant.

Smith, a driver for the DeBolt Trucking Co. of Pittsburgh, was making a delivery late yesterday at the National Tube Co. plant when he attempted to loosen a chain holding the tailgate of his truck. The heavy chain slipped upward, struck Smith and knocked him to the concrete floor.

A spokesman at the hospital said Smith died at 7:30 a.m.

Motorist Upsets In Tullytown

Driving west on the new Route 13 extension in Tullytown, at 2 a.m. today, Charles Lafayette Cook, 5704 Fleetwing Drive, Bristol township, ran off the road and overturned near the Watts house, borough police said.

Patrolman Pat Coia said a reckless driving summons will be issued.

presidential statement on the Israeli-Egyptian fighting and the Anglo-French ultimatum.

The White House ignored for the moment a Stevenson telegram to the President last night counseling Mr. Eisenhower against any "hasty action" in sending American troops abroad.

Mr. Eisenhower, in a report to the nation last night, said there will be "no United States involvement" in the current hostilities involving Israel, Egypt, Great Britain and France.

The President's statement was regarded presently by the White House as sufficient answer to Stevenson who sent his message shortly before Mr. Eisenhower spoke.

Stevenson sent his telegram from New York just before he left for Pittsburgh. He urged the President to exhaust all possible statesmanship before taking an abrupt action which might lead to involving our armed forces in the present crisis or might lead to further breakdown of our relations with our Western Allies.

In his strongest accusation against administration foreign policy, Stevenson said the President and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles "bear a heavy responsibility" for the Middle East situation.

"War now threatens the United States and the entire world because of the shortcomings of the Republican foreign policy," he said.

He said the administration had lost the friendship it sought with the Arab world and also the country.

vidence of Israel. He said the administration stood idly by while Russia supplied arms to Egypt and gained a foothold in the Middle East.

The President, in a preamble to his address Wednesday night, said the events and issues involved in the Middle East "have no connection whatsoever with the matters of partisanship."

"They are the concerns of every American — his present and his future," he said.

for the first time since the start of the country-wide revolt a week ago.

"Budapest has finally spent a quiet night," the broadcast said. A dispatch from Budapest yesterday said it was rumored that the top three Hungarian Communists had fled to Russia.

Today's broadcast appeared to indicate the revolutionary authorities believed the reports to be true.

The Nagy government increased pressure on the Soviets to withdraw all their troops from Hungary before the rising anti-Soviet feeling turns against him.

In a note to the Soviet Union the Nagy government demanded opening of talks on the withdrawal of Soviet troops from the country as soon as possible.

The last Red army forces pulled out of Budapest itself late yesterday. But reports reaching here said strong tank formations still ringed the capital and were stationed in other parts of the country.
